

EDGE ENVIRONMENTAL COMMITMENT

At Edge, we care. We care about our customers, our Edge team members and the environment.

We know that the print industry – from chemicals used in print processing to shipping our products – creates pollution as a by-product. At Edge, we are committed to steadily reducing our impact on the environment.

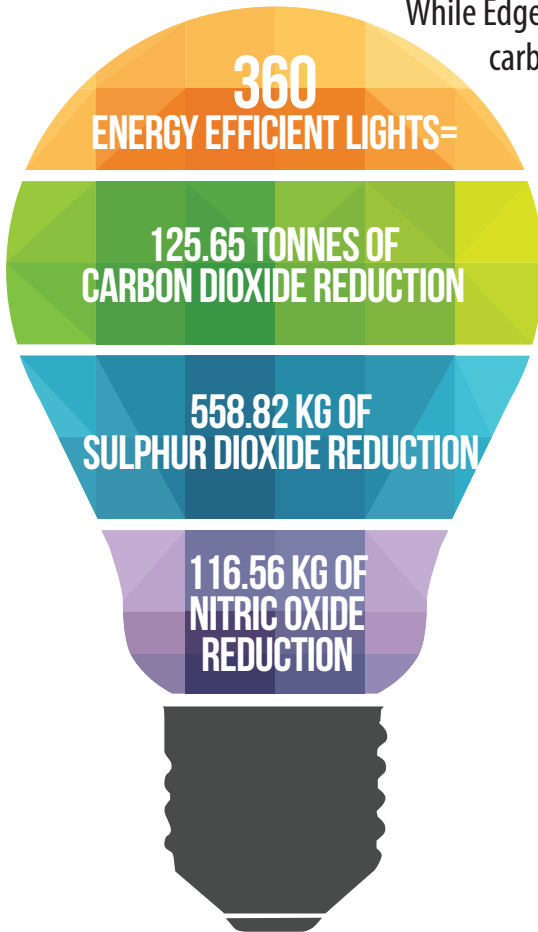

While Edge's green story starts small, one carbon neutral footprint at a time, we have big ambitions.

It began with our new digital printing press, the HP Indigo, which has a 100% carbon neutral manufacturing process.

Now, we are in the process of converting all light sources, over 360 lights, in our Ontario-based head office and lab to sustainable energy efficient lights.

Edge Earth Day Cleanup

Corporately, each and every member of the Edge team is taking a pledge to ensure environmental impact is a daily consideration from the business choices we make down to the lunches we bring. And we look forward to our annual Earth Day team community clean up on April 22.